The Nicholls & Clarke Group is a business dedicated to the manufacture and supply of the finest building materials. Founded in 1875 in London, we have grown from servicing the capitals' building trades to becoming the largest privately owned national manufacturer and distributor of fine quality building products.

Quality manufacturing is at the core of our business and comes as standard. We own state of the art manufacturing facilities based across the UK and Central Europe. This gives us the broadest manufacturing capability available, allowing us to offer an extensive portfolio of product, more specialised than that of any of our competitors.

Our distribution network is supported with our private fleet of over 110 commercial vehicles. This gives us full logistical control from the point of manufacture through to delivery to site. We offer a nationwide delivery service, be that to site, home or commercial address. The vast majority of our deliveries are made on a next day basis.

Research & Development

The chemists in our highly equipped laboratories are constantly engaged in research and development. Investment in the latest laboratory equipment and testing facilities allow us to push forward with the development of the next new technology or raw material that will further enhance product performance or handling characteristics. Prior to going to market, we undergo rigorous testing of all our products to ensure that performance is to a high standard. All products are tested to meet the relevant standards and regulations.

Technical Service

The N&C Nicobond Technical Team has well over 100 years of combined experience in the tile industry. We are able to offer a full technical specification service and are available to attend any site address throughout the U.K. A technical written specification is available on request.

Trade Associations & Technical Committees

N&C Nicobond has been heavily involved in the creation of British & European Standards for decades. We have chaired The Tile Association (TTA) and their Wetroom Technical Committee. We continue to push for stringent policing of the industry which would stop manufacturers falsely claiming specific European standards on packaging. Our philosophy has always been to drive up quality and standards whilst remaining highly competitive.

Digital Imaging

Digital image definition and the flexibility of the process means that each tile can be different if required, allowing more realistic representation of natural material such as stone. It also allows design flexibility to produce murals or unique floors. Different patterns of tile can be processed in sequence or even together. High image definition can be achieved.

Traditionally, ceramic tile decoration was a costly practice which involved a fair amount of dust and residual materials. Inkjet printing processes have significantly reduced costs allowing manufacturers to dispense with screens, screen rollers, silicone rollers and devices to engrave, coupled with a substantial reduction in pigment use and associated pastes. We will highlight products that use this inkjet technology throughout.

Ceramic

With a glazed finish on the front and a clay "biscuit" backing, ceramic tiles are available in many colours and sizes, in a variety of finishes such as gloss, satin or matt. The high porosity biscuit allows the use of ready-mixed adhesives. Being easier to cut and install than porcelain or natural stone often makes ceramics a more cost-effective option. The use of inkjet printing technology in some ranges adds a natural appearance. Some ceramic tiles can be used on the floor. Due to the manufacturing and firing process, ceramic tiles may vary in tone or size between batches and therefore it is important to ensure that all boxes are marked with the same batch number and tiles from a number of boxes are mixed during fixing. Please ask in branch for details.

Porcelain

The higher firing temperature of porcelain tiles ensures that they are fully vitrified, producing tiles with enhanced properties which are harder wearing, with increased load ratings and the manufacturing process of unglazed or through bodied porcelain means that if the tile suffers an impact chip, the original colour remains. As with ceramic tiles, the manufacturing and firing process may produce a variance in tone or size between batches and therefore it is important to ensure that all boxes are marked with the same batch number and tiles from a number of boxes are mixed during fixing. Please ask in branch for details.

Natural Stone

Our travertine, marble, slate and limestone ranges are natural products quarried from around the world. These tiles are produced from naturally occurring stone and therefore the colour and patterning may vary quite considerably between tiles – this is a feature of this kind of product. All natural stones require specific treatment while fixing, including initial cleaning, impregnator sealing and on-going maintenance. It is important all relevant instructions are followed.

Mosaics

The majority of our mosaic tiles are attached to a mesh backing for ease of installation. The mesh can be cut to size with scissors to provide a cost-effective border or décor strip with any main tile.

Agglomerate Quartz

In a typical manufacturing process, graded marble or quartz is compressed and blended together with a resin producing an amazing finish. Large blocks are produced which are cut to size and given the required surface finish. Specific fixing instructions must be followed. Please ask in branch for advice and further details.

Colour Shade Variation Grading

The variation of colour, texture, and tone between individual ceramic tiles is referred to as 'colour shade variation'. Variation in colour and shade is an inherent characteristic of any fired product and can actually enhance the character and beauty of the finished project. Shade variation is inherent in all tile products, including man-made tiles. Shade and texture will vary from piece to piece within production runs.

V1 shade variation has little or no change from piece to piece, whereas a V4 will have a large variety of colour and/or texture changes. Prior to any installation, the tiles should be approved by the customer as shades of colour are seen differently on computer screens and brochures. Therefore, we advise that customers request a sample before making a final selection or purchase.

V1-Uniform Appearance:

Minimal to no difference among pieces from the same production run because each ceramic tile is manufactured using the same glaze applications and body texture.

V2-Slight Variation:

Distinguishable differences in texture and/or pattern within similar colours.

V3-Moderate Variation:

Though the colours present in a single piece of ceramic tile may indicate the colours to be expected on other tiles, the amount of colours on each piece may vary significantly.

V4-Substantial variation:

Random colour variation from tile to tile, so that one ceramic tile may have a totally different colour from that on other tiles. Thus, the final installation will be unique.

inspiration through the synergy collection...

Introducing the world's first collection encompassing 10 unique ranges, specially formulated to fuse different elements together and empower you to experiment with colours, textures, sizes and finishes

Lifestyle & Trend Forecasting: inspiration through synergy

Anticipating future designs and understanding key market shifts within the different sectors is vital to the success of housebuilders, architects and interior designers as it enables them to forecast client preferences and deliver inspired designs that reflect knowledge and creativity. Synergy is an essential collection in this area, where thorough independent research and development, has been undertaken to understand the key colour palette and decorative direction and preferences, which today makes up the Synergy Series.

Balance

Here we see a range of harmonious neutral colours that fit perfectly together. Biscuit beige, off-white and taupe are highlighted with darker earthy tones of coffee and a metallic mosaic mix used in small touches to accent the lighter natural colours.

Origins

We see natural tones mixed together with accents of copper, pewter and warm metallic to create ethereal spaces. Shimmer and oxidised surfaces bring a delicate approach to colour as we see the beautification of skin tones alongside luxurious amethyst and gold.

Evolution

The colours are inspired by a mixture of earthy tones and embrace peacock, deep blue, cobalt and night blue. These colours are often seen as tone on tone and usually combined with a neutral palette of white, natural, beige and grey. Be confident with a mix of textures and sizes.

Clash

White is the background base for a mash up of colour within the Clash trend as colours are inspired by diverse sources. Red, Mocha, Cobalt and Old Rose are combined with grey and black as they provide an accent in this global mix of colour.
