MORRISON

The Design is Simple

Floating frames create a form language and panel inserts in a choice of powdercoated steel, glass, concrete or wood provide texture and tone. Seamless connections and flawless finishes define finesse. The magic is in the scale, proportions and experience. You can't help feeling sociable standing around a tall table or perching on a high stool. And what better prescription for quiet relaxation or intimate conversation than sitting on a big beautiful bench with a book or a friend? Morrison elegantly engages the many dimensions of terrace life.

Morrison for Terrace Life

Escape the everyday — create an everyday escape. We believe the quality of a space enlarges the quality of experience. Morrison makes memorable moments happen on terraces, patios, roof gardens and other private social settings. For sharing milestones and enjoying quiet times, meeting old acquaintances or turning new ones into friends, these elegant high tables with stools and sybaritic low bench from a master of modernist architecture inspire big experiences in spaces of all sizes.
